An especially personal Las Vegas result

For The XII Reserve, the story of Broad Arrow's October 31, 2026 Las Vegas auction comes home with one familiar automobile. The 2008 Mercedes-Benz SLR McLaren Roadster in Pure Black, Lot 157, was formerly part of our collection. The Broad Arrow app Past Lots list now displays SOLD $550,000, versus the presale estimate of $625,000-$675,000. That is $75,000, or 12%, below the guide's low end. This is app-displayed sold consideration; the video does not identify whether buyer premium is included.

Former Reserve SLR Roadster: chassis-level detail

Lot 157 is chassis WDDAK76F68M001652, Pure Black over Black and 300 SL Red Silver Arrow leather with XL seats, cataloged at 8,103 miles. The auction catalog records Mercedes-Benz of Miami service in March 2025 and another service in April 2026. The association with The XII Reserve is supplied by the dealership and should be matched to historical ownership documents for formal provenance. We do not imply any current ownership, consignor role or involvement by The XII Reserve in the auction.

A second SLR illustrates the spread

Lot 117 was a separate Arctic White 2009 Mercedes-Benz SLR McLaren Roadster. It displays SOLD $675,000 against a $725,000-$825,000 estimate. The $125,000 difference from our former black car is an observed result spread between two distinct chassis; mileage, year, equipment, condition, service and bidder interest must all be considered. Neither result should be presented as the market price for all SLR Roadsters.

The major Vegas auction headline numbers

Lot	Vehicle	App status / displayed price
186	2025 Ferrari Daytona SP3	SOLD $16,850,000
139	1997 Ferrari F50	SOLD $17,000,000
178	2014 Ferrari LaFerrari	SOLD $8,000,000
126	2003 Ferrari Enzo	SOLD $5,950,000
122	2023 Bugatti Chiron Super Sport	SOLD $4,150,000
165	2015 McLaren P1 GTR by Lanzante	SOLD $3,100,000
162	2019 Koenigsegg Regera	SOLD $2,400,000
180	2011 Ferrari 599 SA Aperta	SOLD $3,950,000
157	2008 Pure Black SLR Roadster (former XII)	SOLD $550,000
117	2009 Arctic White SLR Roadster	SOLD $675,000

Auction guides were not transaction prices

Among the most prominent disparities: F50 sold at $17 million versus a $20 million presale indication; Enzo sold at $5.95 million versus a $6.5 million low guide; LaFerrari sold at $8 million versus an $8.5 million low guide; and Chiron Super Sport sold at $4.15 million versus a $4.3 million low guide. Daytona SP3 was the notable exception among these headlines, selling at $16.85 million within its $16 million-$18 million guide. A sale below estimate is not, by itself, proof of declining model values.

What PASSED means to a buyer

An auction pass is an unsold lot, not a zero-dollar valuation and not a completed price. Especially in limited-production vehicles, reserve policy, commission structure, catalog condition disclosures, lender logistics and bidder depth can determine whether an auction result translates to a tradable retail benchmark.

The editorial conclusion

Las Vegas’s strongest lesson is specificity. The F50, SP3, Chiron and Enzo results will be discussed in collector-car circles, but the same event produced mixed outcomes for 458 Speciale, Aventador SVJ, GT2 RS and McLaren 720S lots. The XII Reserve will prioritize completed transactions, transparent provenance and disciplined entry points over extrapolation from estimates. Our former black SLR Roadster is a reminder that the story behind a car is worth preserving even as ownership changes.

Exact source and price-basis disclosure

Las Vegas October 31 results cited here are the SOLD amounts or PASSED statuses visible in the Broad Arrow Auctions app recording supplied by The XII Reserve on November 1, 2026. The captured Past Lots view does not say whether a displayed amount is hammer-only or includes buyer premium; figures are therefore described as app-reported sold amounts, not hammer prices. Pending any later official corrections, this is a dated snapshot, not a certified final financial settlement.
